

NATIONAL GUILD OF PEARL K. MCGOWN
RUG HOOKRAFTERS, INC.

The National Guild is a non-profit organization of traditional hookrafters. Approximately thirty-five years ago. Old Sturbridge Village (an historic museum) pressed Pearl McGown to form a guild based on the same precepts as the Brazer Guild (for Painters). Fine quality workmanship, education and appreciation for our art form were to be the primary concerns.

Over the years, the National Guild has flourished. There are approximately fifteen hundred members. The Guild sponsors rug schools, publishes a quarterly NEWSLETTER, hosts a biennial exhibit, maintains a web page, and has a complete library of loanables for all members.
